INTRODUCTION

Different characteristics are important for success in different jobs, and characteristics that are important in one job may interfere with performance in others. The Hogan Personality Inventory (HPI) evaluates candidates on seven well-known dimensions or characteristics that influence occupational success. This report is based on the candidate's scores on these dimensions and it is organised in three sections. Section I reviews the candidate's results focusing on (a) characteristics relevant for success in most work environments; (b) suitability for the position; and (c) the style with which he will interview. Section II provides a graphic report of the candidate's assessment results. Section III summarises the recommendation for job fit and potential hiring.

The Hogan Personality Inventory evaluates candidates on seven well-known characteristics that influence occupational success.

SECTION I - SUMMARY OF ASSESSMENT RESULTS

Employment Fit

Kelly Warren seems poised, confident, and self-assured but may overestimate his abilities and ignore feedback. He is a responsible team player who attends to details, but who can also be flexible about the rules. Kelly Warren tends to be achievement oriented, interested in training, and will stay up-to-date on new developments in business and technology.

Job Fit

Mr. Warren is even-tempered and confident, even in urgent, stressful times. Mr. Warren is not very competitive but can take on authority when needed. In addition, others will find him to be considerate, tactful, and patient. Although he will support policies and processes, he can be flexible enough to adapt to new demands.
